DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 4 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Calverley (2662335).

Calverley teaches a first base member (Fig.1) with a pair of legs, a second base member with a horse like configuration (Fig.2), a plurality of top pieces (Fig.12, 13, 14) and a plurality of couplers of male and female configuration (Fig.7-10).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2-3, 5 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Calverley.

Calverley teaches all limitations except that it does not teach upper bodies resembling knights or civil war soldiers.

Art Unit: 3712

Making figures of various resemblances are aesthetic requirements and change from one person to another. Calverly pieces can also be used as knight or soldier pieces for that purpose.

In order to make the game pieces appealing to various aesthetic requirements, it would have been obvious to change the figure look knight or soldier.

One of ordinary skill in art at the time the invention was made would have suggested configuring pieces like knights or soldiers for aesthetic purposes.

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. 1746839,1211590,1268659.
